Severely Mentally Impaired

An application form must be completed; on the form there is a section which a qualified medical practitioner (usually your Doctor) must complete to confirm to the Council that in their medical opinion you are “severely mentally impaired”. “Severely mentally impaired” means a person who has severe impairment of intelligence and social functioning (however caused), which appears to be permanent.

If a dwelling is only occupied by people who are classed as “severely mentally impaired” it is exempt from Council Tax.

However, if a person living at a property is classed as “severely mentally impaired”, and they live with other people, that person is “disregarded” from Council Tax. This means we do not count them when calculating the number of people living in the house. If, by not counting that person, the number of people living in the property is just one, a 25% discount may be granted.

Person Discount/Disregard

The basic Council Tax bill assumes that two persons aged 18 years or over reside in a dwelling. If there are more than two resident adults the bill is not increased. However, if there are less than two adults the bill is reduced on the following basis:

- 25% if all but one person living in your home falls into one of the groups of people who are not counted, known as disregarded.

Once in receipt of a discount or exemption should there be a change in your circumstances that may affect your entitlement to the discount you must advise the Revenues Department within 21 days.

Discounts and exemptions are reviewed periodically. We may ask you to provide information that helps us to do this.

Failing to supply this information or knowingly supplying false information could mean any entitlement is cancelled and a penalty of £70 being applied to your account for each year of the failure to notify.

Fair Processing Notice - How we collect and use information

We will use the information you give in this form, and in any supporting evidence you send us, to process and calculate your council tax. We will normally keep your records for up to seven financial years, and then they will be destroyed securely.

We may check and pass the information to certain third parties, other agencies or organisations such as the HM Revenues and Customs, as allowed by law to:

- Make sure the information is accurate, and
- Prevent or detect crime, and
- Protect public funds.

These third parties include government departments, local authorities and private-sector companies such as banks and organisations that may lend you money.

We will not give information about you to anyone else, or use information about you for other purposes, unless the law allows us to.

The Council is the data controller for the purpose of the Data Protection Act. If you want to know more about what information we have about you, or the way we use it, please ask us.
